

This proposal has the potential to put small VoIP companies like us out of business. To force us to comply with poorly thought out specifications, and compete head to head with giant lobbying conglomerates like verisign and cisco would be unjust. Not only does this proposal provide an unfair advantage to the larger companies, but it also ,quite literally, limits free speach.